

Empowered by the Holy Spirit

SESSION IN A SENTENCE: Peter and John offered a man who was lame something better than money—healing and salvation in Jesus.

BACKGROUND PASSAGE: Acts 3:1–4:31

A man was hired to work the overnight shift for a parcel company. In the early morning hours, he unloaded 18-wheelers full of packages. The location where he trained was outfitted with electric belts that would send the packages out of the trailer and up to the next belt to be sorted. Little did he realize how helpful that electric belt was. After training, he was transferred to his permanent location that was not outfitted with electric belts. Instead, he and his fellow workers had to haul the boxes out of the trailer by hand before passing them off to be sorted. Many days he longed to be back at the state-of-the-art training warehouse, where electric belts made the work so much easier.

When was a time you didn't realize how helpful something was until it was gone?

Point 1: God's people have something better to offer the world (Acts 3:1-7).

<sup>1</sup> Now Peter and John were going up to the temple at the hour of prayer, the ninth hour. <sup>2</sup> And a man lame from birth was being carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple that is called the Beautiful Gate to ask alms of those entering the temple. <sup>3</sup> Seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, he asked to receive alms. <sup>4</sup> And Peter directed his gaze at him, as did John, and said, "Look at us." <sup>5</sup> And he fixed his attention on them, expecting to receive something from them. <sup>6</sup> But Peter said, "I have no silver and gold, but what I do have I give to you. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk!" <sup>7</sup> And he took him by the right hand and raised him up, and immediately his feet and ankles were made strong.

Imagine being this man, unable to walk from birth and forced to beg for money from those who walked by. Would you wonder if God were punishing you? Would you have any hope of improving your circumstances? Day after day, you would expect ridicule and pity and hope only for someone's generosity with silver and gold. But Peter and John encountered the man with something far better to give—healing in Jesus' name.

What are some ways the condition of the man who was lame compares with our sinful state apart from Jesus?

Now put yourself in the shoes of Peter and John and be encouraged by the power of Jesus working through His disciples. We probably should not expect to walk around town healing people, but we have other Spirit-empowered ways to minister to the world. And just like Peter and John, we are all called to minister to the world in the name of Jesus, watching Him do amazing things through us as we share His gospel with the world.

Why should we consider the gospel of Jesus a better gift than silver and gold, or even a healing?

Voices from Church History

"The Spirit-filled life is not a special, deluxe edition of Christianity. It is part and parcel of the total plan of God for His people."<sup>1</sup>

—A. W. Tozer (1897-1963)

Point 2: God's people give glory and praise to Jesus (Acts 3:11-16).

<sup>11</sup> While he clung to Peter and John, all the people, utterly astounded, ran together to them in the portico called Solomon's. <sup>12</sup> And when Peter saw it he addressed the people: "Men of Israel, why do you wonder at this, or why do you stare at us, as though by our own power or piety we have made him walk?" <sup>13</sup> The God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, the God of our fathers, glorified his servant Jesus, whom you delivered over and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had decided to release him. <sup>14</sup> But you denied the Holy and Righteous One, and asked for a murderer to be granted to you, <sup>15</sup> and you killed the Author of life, whom God raised from the dead. To this we are witnesses. <sup>16</sup> And his name—by faith in his name—has made this man strong whom you see and know, and the faith that is through Jesus has given the man this perfect health in the presence of you all.

Peter and John were clear with the man who was lame that his healing came in Jesus' name. Here they made the same point with the gathering crowd. The disciples did not see themselves as special but as vessels through whom God was working. They had no power of their own but called upon the name of Jesus to heal a man, and the result was a powerful display of Jesus' authority on earth. Through faith in this Jesus, the man was healed. So Peter and John's point is clear—give glory to Jesus!

Why might we find it so difficult to give glory to Jesus for the works He accomplishes in our lives and through us?

God is not trying to make your life harder, more confusing, or more stressful. He didn't send Jesus, the Holy Spirit, or send you on His mission to add a burden to your life. Jesus is called the "Author of life" (Acts 3:15) and the "Prince of Peace" (Isa. 9:6) for a reason. The burden we already have in our lives comes from sinning against God and rejecting His Son. This guilt shackles us and keeps us from being the human beings we were created to be. But Jesus came to set us free to be truly human as He is. So don't reject or deny Him; rather, have faith in His name, be healed from your sin, and praise Him.

It's _____ whose name we bear.

It's His _____ we are called to join.

All _____ to Him for our salvation and for the salvation of others!

Point 3: God's people call others to repentance so they can experience refreshing (Acts 3:17-20).

<sup>17</sup> “And now, brothers, I know that you acted in ignorance, as did also your rulers. <sup>18</sup> But what God foretold by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ would suffer, he thus fulfilled. <sup>19</sup> Repent therefore, and turn back, that your sins may be blotted out, <sup>20</sup> that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, and that he may send the Christ appointed for you, Jesus,

The Jewish people in the temple, and their leaders, were guilty of the heinous, cosmic crime of putting the Son of God to death. Graciously, Peter categorized them as having acted in ignorance, but this did not let them off the hook. If they truly had understood God and His Word, they would have accepted and worshiped Jesus. Instead, they executed Him in unbelief. Therefore, they needed to repent to find forgiveness of sin—as do we all.

Why is ignorance not a valid excuse for sin?

The Jews had a faulty theology that led to faulty, guilty actions. A biblical theology helps us know God rightly so we can worship Him rightly and then tell others about Him rightly. But the people of this crowd had not recognized the Son of God in the flesh standing before them. And misunderstanding the plan of God and the person of His Son, they justified a rigged trial and an unjust killing. Yet through repentance and faith, this same Son would forgive, be with His followers through the Holy Spirit, give them rest and refreshment, and one day come for them again as their promised Messiah.

God Is Immanent: God is personable and _____ to those made in His _____, while remaining completely distinct and unique from all of His creation. God is not a distant deity (as imagined by the deist) who only sits on His heavenly throne with no interaction, but instead, He is a personal God who created people in His image to be in personal _____ with Him.

Daily Study

Day 1: Read Acts 3:1-10

The man who was lame was passed by over and over again for years. Perhaps every so often, someone would stop and hand him a few coins. Maybe someone would even pray for him as they passed by while going into the temple. However, his life was riddled with constant helplessness and shame.

Peter and John, walking in the Spirit, had a different set of lenses. They didn't pass by the man or flip him a coin; rather, they saw him as a man in need of healing. And fortunately, they knew where the healing would come from—the name of Jesus.

Of course, we know that we aren't guaranteed physical healing in this life. God may grant it, but even if not, our suffering is never wasted (Rom. 5:3-5). We certainly aren't guaranteed to be able to heal every person we encounter. But we can follow the lead of Peter and John—having eyes to see those who are hurting and pointing them to Jesus.

For whom in your life can you help meet physical needs while pointing them to eternal hope in Jesus?

Day 2: Read Acts 3:11-16

If we were in Peter and John's situation, the mediators of Jesus' awesome power, we might have been tempted to take credit for something as amazing as a miraculous healing. If we can't even give God credit for the small things, how much more might we be tempted to take credit for the big ones, especially the big ones that would make us look powerful or wise or even super-holy!

Peter and John show us that we need God Himself to work through us. Our salvation is initiated by the Father sending the Son, the Son dying and rising from the dead, and the Spirit indwelling us. Our lives are testimonies of grace, not pillars of our greatness. May our lives, in the things we say and the things we do, help people be astonished by God, not by what we've done.

In what ways do you take credit for God's grace in your life? How will you change that?

Day 3: Read Acts 3:17-26

As we discussed in the session, those who knew the Bible the best were often those who overlooked its most important truths. Peter reminded the people here that in Deuteronomy 18, Moses promised to send another prophet like him. We know that this prophet was Jesus—a true and better prophet whose preaching would determine whether or not His hearers would be included in the people of God. The Jews, he reasoned, should know Deuteronomy 18 and therefore believe what Moses said about Jesus.

As Christians, we are sometimes the most immune to the gospel's potency. We've heard it so many times that it seems like white noise. When God speaks to us, we simply aren't prepared to listen to Him. May we of all people know the Scriptures well so that we might be able to listen to the Holy Spirit and respond to His commands.

What are some ways you might feel like the gospel has become white noise to you?

Day 4: Read Acts 4:1-22

Peter and John ruffled many feathers as they preached Christ and did miracles in Jesus' name by the Spirit's power. This is not surprising, of course, given that Jesus promised His disciples would be persecuted (Matt. 5:11-12). When the leaders saw Peter and John's faith and boldness, they saw something different. These weren't petty criminals; they were unique men sent by God.

Though the authorities might have rejected Jesus as their Messiah, they could not accuse Peter and John of any wrongdoing. They threatened Peter and John to knock off the evangelism stuff, but this would not sway the disciples. They expected persecution—as we should—but they did not allow persecution to squash their desire to fulfill their mission.

In places all over the world today, there are varying levels of persecution and cultural pressure against the church. But take heart, God is with us and will never leave us.

Are you prone to be timid in sharing your faith? Why or why not?

Day 5: Read Acts 4:23-31

By God's grace, the believers didn't back away from suffering and persecution. They acknowledged its presence but weren't crippled by its reality. They remembered not only the words of Jesus and Psalm 2, but they reflected on the fact that Jesus' crucifixion was carried about by the kings of earth. This was routine Christianity for them.

As we face trials and tribulations that often are nowhere near the level that our brothers and sisters in the Book of Acts faced, or the larger world, for that matter, we need to be reminded that this is part and parcel of biblical Christianity. We are not the rulers of this world—not yet (Rev. 5). Rather, we are exiles and sojourners on our way home (1 Pet. 2:11). So let us hold loosely to our lives here on earth and live for the kingdom of God under King Jesus that will one day conquer all.

What are some ways you try to avoid suffering or persecution for Christ that you may need to face with boldness, humility, and faith?
